Sontia concludes successful attendance at Munich High-End Show

PRESS RELEASE: 25th May 2009

The Munich High-End show is the most important event in the global Hi-fi and Home Cinema calendar for the more upmarket side of the AV industry. Munich Show Information

CEO Chris Vernon and PR consultant Rob Follis attended the Munich show together, for three very busy days in late May 2009.

Meetings were held with approximately 15 companies in the specialist Hi-fi and Home Cinema field, UK, European and International. Time was also spent networking with press and opinion formers.

Companies visited included KEF, Elac, Canton, Tannoy, Arcam, Inovadis, Sennheiser, Tangent and more.

With many international visitors at the show, the opportunity was taken to demonstrate Sontia spatial and bass enhancements to as many people as possible.

Chris Vernon, founder and CEO commented; "Although we had only the simplest of demonstrations on an iPod via Sennheiser headphones, everyone we played our demo clips to was interested in receiving more information. This was a great result given the noisy environment at a show".

Chris and/or Robert will be attending most key relevant exhibitions this year to evangelise Sontia
